

Teaching Methods

Warm-ups

Action plan in class (form provided)

Capture students' needs

Teach a concept process

Teach a skill process

Persuasive presentation process

Add the 'hook' to start a persuasive presentation

Close with benefits; motivate

Add an exercise to practice the process

Six steps to create a workshop

How to choose a leader

Reports from groups

Timing group exercises

Switch delivery methods

Evaluators to raise performance fast

Instructor directions—how to include

Additional resource material—how to add

Workshop organizational guide

Handling challenging situations

How to write learning objectives

How to tell if you're educating or training

How to include an exercise in your workshop

How to use audio-visual aids

Workshop pre- and post surveys

3 x 5 cards—write/share

Action Plan—outside class

How to create an outline with an instructor guide

Reflection time

Sticky notes

Case study

Find what's wrong (differentiation exercise)

Evaluators to increase performance

Coaching feedback loop

Role play with observer

Attach benefits to what you're teaching

Gallery walk to summarize learning

Tell another person to control the audience

Write it down to control the audience

Tell what someone told you

Test learning with a true/false 'test'

Gather information from others

Skill building workshop format

From Carla Cross's Instructor Development Workshop

42 Innovative Methods to Teach

You'll learn to do all these in our IDW course.

Register at www.CrossInstitute.com.

